ENGLISH AVIATOR LED ALL OTHERS

Claude Graham-White Proves Himself Superior Over Many Contestants.

THOUSANDS WITNESS EVENTS

Demonstrated in Thrilling Manner Hazardous Feats of the Air. Bomb Dropping Was a Feature.—Was Feature Day.

Boston, Sept. 5.—Claude Grahame-White, of England, proved himself the superior of all the aviators taking part in the second days' events of the Harvard-Boston Aero Meet, when, before 30,000 people at Atlantic today, he took first place in every one of the five classes contested.

In addition White, in exhibition flights demonstrated in a thrilling manner, all the hazardous feats of the men of the air in dipping and swooping and making short turns. He did this not only alone, but in one of his flights took up Miss Mary Campbell, of New York, and after twice circling the course in an easy manner gave her a thrill with a 200 foot slide down the wind to within ten feet of the ground from which elevation he dropped lightly onto the turf.

Charles Foster Willard, of Melrose, took up the first newspaper woman to make an ascension in this country, Miss Eleanor Ladd, of Boston.

The best time of the day made by White, was 5 1-4 miles in six minutes, one second, with a Bleriot.

White's distance record of the day was 5 miles, 617 feet, on which trip he was one hour, 16 minutes, 7 seconds in the air.

The one serious accident of the day occurred in the amateur class when Horace F. Kearny, of Kansas City, Mo., while running over the ground at the get-away, shot into a wire fence and crumpled up the front control of his Pfitzner monoplane. He escaped unhurt.

White, in a Bleriot, Curtiss, in his own machine, and Willard in another Curtiss competed in the speed contest of three laps of the mile and three quarters course. White did it in six minutes, one second, Curtiss in six minutes thirty-one seconds, and Willard in 7 minutes, 38 4-5 seconds.

White won out in the duration contest by remaining up one hour, 16 minutes and 7 seconds, while Johnston was in the air 48 minutes 54 2-5 seconds.

The five contestants in the distance event were obliged to allow first place to White, who made 45 miles, 617 feet, Johnston being second with 26 miles, 3,107 feet.

In the bomb dropping contest White proved himself the performer of the day, dropping two of his ten bombs directly into the funnel of the battleship while all of his other shots hit some part of the deck. Curtiss made a bulls eye on the funnel and seven hits in the deck out of eight in one try and struck the battleship nine out of ten times in a second attempt.

On points to date, Claude Grahame-White has 68; Glenn H. Curtiss, 27; Charles F. Willard, 13; Ralph Johnstone 6 and Walter Brookins 2.

MEETINGS AT LUMBERTON.

Several Boards Gather on First Monday.—County Politics.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Lumberton, N. C., Sept. 5.—The Board of County Commissioners, the Board of Education, the County Democratic Executive Committee, and the Robeson County Rural Carriers' Association have all held meetings here today, but nothing of importance was done other than appointing election officers for the different primaries and the November election.

Late this evening Mr. W. S. Cobb, President of the County Farmers' Union, made the announcement that there would be a candidate for the State Senate opposing Col. E. F. McRae, of Maxton, who announced his candidacy several days ago. While no official statement has been made, it is understood that Chairman Geo. B. McLeod will in a day or two announce himself as a candidate for sheriff, opposing Sheriff McNeill who is now serving his second term.

HIS INJURIES PROVED FATAL

Maj. J. G. Hollingsworth Succumbs as Result of Accident in Richmond —Prominent In His State— Funeral.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Richmond, Va., Sept. 5.—At 7:40 o'clock this evening, J. G. Hollingsworth, of Fayetteville, N. C., whose skull was fractured in the wreck of two autos early Friday morning, died at the Johnston Willis Hospital here. He lay in a state of coma from the accident until his death.

At the bedside were Mrs. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Kate Bleece, Dr. J. V. McGougan and F. H. Cotton, of Fayetteville. The body was shipped to Fayetteville at 1 o'clock tonight. The death of Hollingsworth makes the second resulting from the alleged joy ride, Henry M. Deputy, of Philadelphia, being killed instantly when they jumped from the car.

Maj. Hollingsworth was paymaster general of the North Carolina National Guard and a prominent business man of Fayetteville.

AFFAIRS AT RALEIGH.

Another Homicide at Capital—Prominent Young Man Arrested.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 5.—The Wake county authorities have been unable as yet to apprehend Almond Rains, the fiend who shot down his wife near Apex Saturday. It is a peculiar fact that only two bird shot have been found in the woman's face, the conclusion being that she must have died from heart failure brought on by fright when the man fired upon her. The first reports of the killing had it that the wife's head was literally shot off. Rains is believed to have escaped on some passing train as he had access to both the Southern and the Seaboard main lines with opportunities to go north or south on a number of trains.

Governor Kitchin is in Spray today to deliver a political speech with Maj. Charles M. Stedman, Democratic nominee for Congress in the Fifth District. The Governor delivered an address tonight at Reidsville.

The arrest of Norfleet Stronach, son of one of Raleigh's best known business men and ex-mayor of the city, Saturday night, on the charge of having sold whiskey, gave a decidedly sensational turn to the crusade that has been in progress here for several weeks against "blind tigers" through the operations of a detective agency. The prosecuting witness is Will Bryant, a negro, who claims to have purchased the whiskey from young Stronach, who has been married only a few months. What adds special complications to the situation is that the young man is a first cousin of Police Justice Alex Stronach. The defendant gave $50 bond for his appearance for trial.

COURT AT WHITEVILLE.

Many People in Town and Political Pot is Simmering.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Sept. 5.—Court convened this morning for the trial of criminal business, Judge Allen presiding. The town is full of people, Hon. Hannibal L. Godwin, our member of Congress, is in town, and circulating among the voters. It is reported that he will deliver an address. Hon. O. L. Clark has his friends also at work. The general impression is that a light vote will be polled in the primary on the 15th, as the country people are dissatisfied about being called out so often. They have already quit their work to hold two elections, and think this is as much of their time as should be required.

In justice to Hon. R. H. Powell, who was a candidate for the Legislature in our county, it is but fair to state that Mr. Powell was not an announced candidate but was brought out by his friends only a few days before the primary was held. Mr. Powell did not leave his store, or ask a single person to vote ofr him. He came within one-quarter of a vote of receiving the nomination, which is a high compliment to him. There is no man in our county or section who stands higher in public esteem than Hon. R. H. Powell, and his people delight to honor him.

FIRST OF MONTH MEETINGS.

County Commissioners, Aldermen and Audit and Finance Board.

Yesterday being a legal holiday the regular meetings of the city and county bodies usually held on the first Monday in the month, were postponed until today. The Board of County Commissioners will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in regular monthly session; the Board of Aldermen and the Board of Audit and Finance meet tonight, and probably other official bodies of the city will hold their regular monthly meeting some time today or night. The Board of Audit and Finance did not have to postpone its meeting on account of Labor Day as tonight is the regular time for the meeting.

C. A. Smith, the nominee of Tuesday's primary for Lieutenant Governor, was born in North Carolina, as was the Smith nominated for Governor of Georgia the other day. It is hard to beat a Smith, no matter where he was born.—Columbia State.

CALLED HIM LIAR AFTER HIS SPEECH

EJECTED FROM THE PLATFORM

Incident Caused Wild Confusion—Ex-President Made Labor Day and Address and Laid Cornerstone of College.

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 5.—A man who fought his way to ex-President Roosevelt and called him a liar gave a bad scare today to the crowd at Island Park, in this city. Col. Roosevelt seized the man and helped to eject him from the platform.

The colonel had just finished his Labor Day address which he was delivering to one of the largest crowds which has gathered to see him on his Western trip. A heavy rainstorm drenched the people but most of them sat through the afternoon in their wet clothes to hear him speak.

As Col. Roosevelt spoke the last sentence the crowd cheered and then there was a rush for the speaker's stand of thousands of people who sought to get near enough to see th speaker and shake his hand. Those on the platform pressed around the stand and in a moment it was enclosed with a surging, struggling mass of men and women. Others in the crowd jumped on the platform and added to the crush. It was a good-natured, laughing crowd and the colonel shook hands with everyone who could get near enough to him.

A small, poorly dressed man, pushed his way through the mass of people until he could make himself heard by the colonel. He wore a battered hat and was unshaven.

"I have a question to ask you, Roosevelt," he shouted.

He raised one arm over the heads of the people, waving it to attract the colonel's attention and called out again and again that he wanted to ask a question. Col. Roosevelt saw him and watched his closely.

Fighting his way through the crowd, the man at length reached the short flight of stairs leading to the speaker's stand. He mounted the steps and stopped when he reached the top. Standing about six feet from Col. Roosevelt he called out once more:

"I have a question to ask you, Roosevelt."

The men and women on the stand grew silent. Col. Roosevelt turned and faced him. Waving one arm the man shouted:

"I want to know who is paying the expenses of this trip of yours about the country."

The question angered Col. Rosevelt and his face showed it. He advanced a step toward his interrogator and shot back his answer.

"I consider that to be an impertinent question," he said.

"However, I have no objection to telling you," he added, "that the expenses of the party are being paid by the magazine of which I am one of the editors."

"You lie," the man shouted so loudly that hundreds of persons in the crowd could hear him.

As he spoke the words Col. Roosevelt stepped forward quickly and seized his arm just above the elbow. He explained later that he did not know who the man was or what his intentions were and that he had taken hold of his arm as a measure of self protection. He pushed the arm forward, turning the man half around so that he was powerless to use the arm. It was an old trick of self-defense which he had learned years ago, the colonel said.

His vigorous action did not deter the man from finishing what he had to say. He shouted out:

"Your expenses are being paid by the people of the United States."

Although Col. Roosevelt was the first to act others ran quickly to assist him and even before the man had finished his remarks two men seized him. The colonel did not release his grip until the stranger was moving rapidly from the stand. He was ejected from the platform and was swallowed up in the excited crowd.

So far as is known, there was no cause for the alarm, but the story of the incident spread quickly through the crowd and produced considerable excitement.

Col. Roosevelt managed to get to his automobile and was driven rapidly away.

In telling of the incident later the colonel said that he had no idea who the stranger was.

"Members of the labor organizations here came to me and told me that they did not know him," he said. "They said that he had come from out of town."

An effort was made to find the man but all traces of him were lost. Col. Roosevelt said that he was not at all alarmed by what had happened. He merely caught hold of the man to guard against the possibility of any sudden move, he said.

Laid the Cornerstone.

Mr. Roosevelt tday laid the cornerstone of a library building for the Fargo College, money for which was subscribed by Andrew Carnegie.

PARADE FEATURES LABOR DAY

Unusual Demonstration in New York Brought Out 71,000 Yesterday—Show Their Hate of Judge Goff—Frisco's Parade.

New York, Sept. 5.—The Labor Day parade here brought out more union marchers this year than have ever before been seen on Fifth Avenue. Conspicuous among them were 3,100 women, most of them garment workers, wearing dark blue and yellow liberty caps and sashes. The leaders estimated that there were 71,000 in line, and the route was from Fifth Avenue and Central Park to Washington Square.

For the first time in 15 years the parade bore no appeal for aid in any pending strike. The cloakmakers strike, one of the largest the country has ever known, has been concluded and the cloak and garment workers turned out in force to prove their joy and to demonstrate their hate of Justice Goff, of the State Supreme Court, who granted an injunction against the strike, and ruled that any strike called to demand the closed shop is a conspiracy in restraint of trade.

Among their banners were the following: "Justice:—Where are my scales? Ask Goff."

"We appeal from Goff to the court of the people."

"A man's a man for a that, Mr. Goff."

"Judge Goff's idea of the unions: No strikes, no contracts, hardly any wages, and d— few members."

Labor Parade in 'Frisco.

San Francisco, Sept. 5.—Forty thousand men marched here today in the first Labor Day parade held since the recent amliation of the labor council and the Building Trades Council. A novel feature of the procession was the divisions composed of women. There were 107 unions in line with 20 bands and as many drum corps.

N. C. MEDICAL COLLEGE.

Local Physicians Are Interested in the Promised Fight.

Local physicians read with no little interest the story in Sunday's Star from Charlotte giving a brief synopsis of an article carried in Saturday evening's Chronicle involving the standing of the North Carolina Medical College, which is located in that city, and which formerly was generally thought to be a department of Davidson College, but it became known more recently that it was merely closely affiliated with that institution. Wilmington physicians discuss the matter freely, but it would hardly be fair to them to give their views until they have been given an opportunity to take such action as they see fit at a meeting of the local medical society. It is understood that at the next meeting of the society the matter will be brought up and considered and it is possible that a copy of the resolutions adopted by the Forsyth medical society will have been received by that time with the request that similar action be taken by the Wilmington physicians. Copies of the report of Mr. Flexner, of the Carnegie Foundation, have been in the hands of local physicians for some time. This report assails the institution as having practically no laboratory and being poorly fitted, manned, etc., and unworthy to bestow the degree of M. D. The movement against the North Carolina College was given impetus at the recent meeting of the State Medical Society at Wrightsville Beach, but there were no public utterances against the institution.

Salisbury, N. C., September 4.—State Senator John M. Julian, editor of the Post, treasurer of the Nye Monument Association and one of the best known and most popular editors in the State is critically ill at his home here with what experts pronounce a genuine case of pellagra. Editor Julian has also been suffering from a nervous breakdown as a result of work in connection with the campaign in addition to his editorial duties.

Tonight Dr. J. W. Babcock, the pellagra specialist, of Columbia, S. C., with Dr. C. A. Julian, of Thomasville, with two other physicians, concurred

PRESIDENT SPOKE ON CONSERVATION

ALSO MADE LABOR DAY TALK

Declares There is No Intention on the Part of the Government to Prosecute Labor Leaders—Conservation Congress.

Minneapolis Minn., Sept. 5.—In a speech before the Conservation Congress in St. Paul today President Taft won a quick response from his thousands of hearers by an appeal to practical common sense in dealing with conservation problems.

In the opinion of many who heard him, he also made answer to the recent agitation for a "new nationalist" or a "Federal centralization of power," by declaring that the only safe course to pursue was to hold fast to the limitations of the constitution and to regard as sacred the power of the States. Mr. Taft, amid applause, made frequent references to the services of Theodore Roosevelt in the cause of conservation, but declared that the time for rhapsodies and glittering generalities had passed. He suggested to the Congress that it should invite its speakers to come down to details, to specific evils and specific remedies.

These sentiments by the President seemed to receive the approval of nearly all his hearers. They came near the end of an exhaustive discussion of conservation. After stating the arguments advanced on both sides of the problem of waterpower site control, he said he would submit the whole matter to the Congress at Washington for determination.

At the fair grounds in the afternoon the President delivered a Labor Day address, the most notable utterance of which was a statement that he knew of no intention on the part of the government to prosecute labor leaders under the anti-trust law. At the same time the President said he did not believe labor organizations should be exempted from such prosecution by specific statute. He declared that such a provision of law would smack of class legislation.

He said he did not believe union organizations needed or desired class legislation, and said he counted on their help in presenting such legislation.

The President received a demonstration, but not an uproarious welcome in St. Paul. The streets were lined from the depot to the reviewing stand where Mr. Taft witnessed the passing of the Labor Day parade. At the Conservation Congress the President was welcomed with prolonged cheering. After luncheon in St. Paul he rode by automobile to the State Fair grounds at Hamline, and received a tumultuous greeting from a throng which filled the cavernous grandstand and overflowed into the race track and infield.

The President was dined at a hotel here this evening informally and then left tonight for Beverly by way of Chicago.

KAUFMAN WINS THE DECISON

Result of Six-Round Bout With Bill Lang in Philadelphia Last Night —8,000 People Present—Given by Rounds.

Philadelphia, Sept. 5.—Al Kaufman won by popular decision in the six-round contest with Bill Lang at the National League baseball park here tonight.

The bout between Kaulman and Lang was scheduled for six rounds. When the principals appeared in the ring there were between seven and eight thousand persons in the ball park. Seated in the boxes and through the grandstand there were many women, who had been admitted to a public boxing bout for the first time in the history of boxing here.

The ring was pitched midway between the home plate and the pitcher's box and was perfectly lighted by giant arc lights suspended from the top of the grandstand.

Seated about the ring and in the boxes were sporting men from all sections of the country.

The principals reached the city early in the afternoon, Kaufman from Allenhurst, N. J., and Lang from Stratford, Conn., their respective training quarters. Both men were in the pink of condition.

Seated in a box close to the ring was Hugh McIntosh, the Australian fight promoter, and his wife. Former champion James J. Corbett occupied a chair in the same box.

Kaufman had in his corner as chief adviser Billy Delaney, probably one of the greatest seconds in the country, while Kid McCoy looked after Lang.

Others in Kaufman's corner were Bob Deady and Tom Kennedy, while Jim Corbett, Hugh McIntosh and Charley Griffith assisted McCoy in taking care of the Australian. It was 9:50 when Kaufman climbed through the ropes. He was followed a moment later by Lang. Both were well received. After a few inrtoductions, and challenges, the chief of which, Sandy Ferguson challenged Johnson for the championship of the world, the men were called to the center of the ring and given their instructions by Referee Rocap.

Round One—Lang led with a light left to the face and they went to a clinch. Kaufman jabbed a straight left to Lang's nose and repeated the blow a second later. Lang refused to break and Kaufman upper-cut with a right at close quarters. Kaufman again sent a straight left to Lang's face which drove the Australian's head back. The referee was having trouble to get the men to break. Kaufman drove a left to Lang's mouth and the latter missed with a right swing as the gong sounded. Kaufman's round.

Round Three—Lang led with a left, but missed, and the men came to a clinch. Kaufman sent a right to the chin and the men clinched and wrestled about the ring. The Californian drove a right to the wind and there was another clinch. Lang sent two lefts to the jaw and there was the same old clinch. Both missed left jabs and then wrestled about the ring. Kaufman sent Lang's head back with a left and then swung a right to the jaw. In a clinch Lang sent both right and left hard to the wind as the gong rang. Round even.

Round Five—Kaufman led a light left and Lang countered with a similar blow. They clinched and had to be separated by the referee. Kaufman landed left and right to the face and they came together without damage. After fiddling a second Kaufman drove Lang to the ropes with a hard left. Kaufman landed a left to the face and right uppercut to the jaw. Kaufman staggered Lang with a hard right and the Australian held on. Lang tried a left to the fact, but missed. Lang brought blood from Kaufman's nose by a butt from his head. Kaufman uppercut twice as the bell rang. Lang went to his corner very tired. It was Kaufman's round.

CREW PICKED UP BY CUNARD LINER

TELL OF THRILLING ESCAPE

Stood by the West Point Until She Foundered—Capt. Pinkham and 14 Men Spent Six Days in a Small Life Boat.

Fish Guard, Wales, Sept. 5.—The steamer Mauretania arrived here today having on board Capt. Pinkham and 15 of his crew, who were picked up by the Cunarder after they had been at sea in a small boat for six days, following the burning of their vessel, the British tramp West Point.

Capt. Pinkham said that the fire on the West Point started in the engine room on August 27th. The flames drove the engineers from their posts and spread so rapidly that soon the donkey engines operating the pumps were disabled by the heat. An attempt was made to extinguish the fire by a bucket brigade, but the hopelessness of the effort was quickly apparent and the captain ordered small boats lowered. From the bunkers the flames made their way to the store-room and galley and prevented the provisioning of the boats, the intense heat repeatedly driving back the sailors, who hoped to secure sufficient to keep them until they were picked up by a passing vessel.

Though pressed hard by the fire the crew stood by their ship until Sunday afternoon when the captain ordered all hands into boats. Throughout Sunday night the boats, each carrying 16 persons, cruised in the vicinity and in the morning another attempt was made to secure much needed stores. The burning craft, which was then sinking, but was again boarded, but scarcely anything of consequence was secured. Monday evening the ship foundered.

The two small boats kept close together until the night of last Wednesday when they drifted apart and neither again sighted the other. The other boat load was picked up by the Leyland steamer Devonian. Friday morning, while Capt. Pinkham and his companions were rescued by the Mauretania Friday night.

The captain and his men suffered severely and only by dint of hard work saved their boat from sinking.

"We suffered horrors," said Capt. Pinkham, in telling his story. "We were without food or water and were very cold. The men had to bail the boat incessantly to keep it afloat."

There was great competition among the saloon passengers of the Mauretania for the possession of the white Persian kitten that Capt. Pinkham brought with him. The pet was auctioned off and sold for $100, the sum being added to the purse made up for the shipwrecked men.

LEAGUE MEETING.

Protest of Fayetteville Games Availed Nothing—All Night Session.

(By Long Distance Telephone.)

Goldsboro, N. C., Sept. 6. (1 A. M.)—At an early hour this morning the directors of the Eastern Carolina League are still in session. Wilmington being represented by William Struthers, Jr. Mr. Struthers presented his protest of the Fayetteville-Rocky Mount games alleged to have been played within the two hours of sunset as prescribed, but after some discussion, it was decided as this would not affect Wilmington's standing for the pennant anyway that the protest be not allowed because of the feeling that would be engendered, etc. Mr. Struthers finally withdrew the protest. The moguls then discussed financial matters with every indication of an easy settlement. The second series pennant was awarded to Rocky Mount.

MRS. MARGARET HALL DEAD.

SAILORS WIN; LEAGUE ENDED

Split Even With Fayetteville on Doubleheader, but Rocky Mount Captured Pennant With Wilson on Home Grounds.

Results Yesterday.

Wilmington 4, Fayetteville 6.
2nd: Wilmington 3, Fayetteville 0.
Raleigh 1, Goldsboro 0.
2nd: Raleigh 8, Goldsboro 1.
Rocky Mount 3, Wilson 0.
2nd: Rocky Mount 2, Wilson 0.
3rd: Rocky Mount 3, Wilson 0.

The Sailors split even with Fayetteville on the last two games of the season played at League Park yesterday, and apparently lost one of the hardest fought races for a pennant that has ever been pulled off in the history of the league.

The news of Rocky Mount's walkover was not generally known until the game was over yesterday afternoon, and the boys played till the last inning for all they were worth, with the hope of overcoming Rocky Mount's lead, and getting a look-in on the championship games. Hanks was sent in to pitch the morning game, but was taken out in the fifth inning, Fayetteville having bunched hits for four tallies in one inning, errors by the Sailors' fielding crew having helped score the runs. Fletcher took his place, and held them down pretty well for the remaining four innings. Rube Howard pitched the afternoon game, and held them to one solitary bingle, and although a couple of errors were charged to the fielders, they could not succeed in getting a single tally across.

Morning Game.

After Mullen had died on first, O'Halloran singled to center, but the side was retired by a double play, Dubbs to Orth to Doak, when Dwyer hit to short. In the last half after Hoffman had died, second to first, Cooper singled to center, going to third when Tydeman hit to left for two bases. Orth went out short to first and Doak fouled to first. Both sides were out in order in the second.

Hartley started the third with a hit to Cooper and was safe when Cooper threw wild. Landgraff was out pitcher to first, after which Mullen took the only vacant base when he was hit by Hanks. O'Halloran hit to Hanks who caught Hartley at plate, Hudson doubling to first catching O'Halloran. In Wilmington's half, Hanks started with a two-bagger to left, but died there as the side was retired without any more damage.

In the fourth Dwyer was safe on error of Cooper and went to second when he threw wild to first. Luyster sacrificed him to third, but Schumaker flew out and Breitenstein fanned. Orth was given a pass, and Doak flew out to short, Kluttz flying to center who doubled Orth at first.

In the fifth Hartley went to second, on Cooper's wild throw to first, but Landgraff popped to Hanks. Brandt struck out, and Mullen flew to Kluttz. Wilmington was out in order.

In Fayetteville's sixth O'Halloran lifted the curtain for a two-base hit to left. Dwyer was safe on an error of Cooper. O'Halloran going to third. Luyster hit to center for two bases, scoring O'Halloran and advancing Dwyer to third. Schumaker got another got another two-bagger to right, scoring Dwyer and O'Halloran. Breitenstein hit to infield and was safe on fielder's choice, Schumaker also being safe on third, Breitenstein stealing second. Hartley flew to center, Schumaker scoring on the throw-in. Landgraff flew to Tydeman, also did Brandt after Breitenstein had made third on a passed ball.

In Wilmington's half, after Hoffman was out pitcher to first, Cooper singled to center and went to second on Tydeman's single to left. Orth dropped one in right field advancing both men. Cooper and Tydeman scoring when Doak got the fourth hit of the inning. Kluttz singled to left, filling the bases. Dubbs couldn't connect successfully, but Orth scored on a passed ball, while Hudson was in process of dying. At this juncture Fletcher was put in the box. Hanks had pitched grand ball for the first few innings, but when the fielders fell down so completely, he naturally got discouraged and could not be expected to hold up to his usual form.

In the seventh Mullen started with a single to left, O'Halloran sacrificing him to second, and Dwyer scoring him with a single to right. Dwyer was caught trying second, and Luyster flew out to Doak. Dwyer was taken out of the game for clashing at His umps, and Breitenstein took his place on third, Schuman being put in right field. In Wilmington's half of the seventh all three men were victims of Brandt and in the eighth after Schumaker had fouled to Hudson, Breitenstein was given four wide ones, and annexed second, going to third a moment later on a passed ball. Hartley was hit by a pitched ball, and Breitenstein scored on Landgraff's fly to center, Hartley going to second. Brandt was hit by Fletcher and took first. Mullen hit to short, and Brandt was forced at second. In the last half Tydeman was hit by pitched ball and went to second on Orth's sacrifice. Doak went out third to first, and Kluttz singled to short, scoring Tydeman. Kluttz stole second, but Dubbs was out third to first.

In the ninth O'Halloran walked and went to second on Schumann's sacrifice, stealing third while Hudson was not looking. Luyster fanned and Schumaker flew to Dubbs. Wilmington sent in Howard to bat for Hudson but he flew out to second. Brooks batting for Fletcher struck out, and Hoffman flew to short, and the Sailors were defeated for the first time on their home grounds in five weeks.

PENNANT DREAMS.
(The Awakening.)

The table of standing of the clubs in another column this morning tells only too plainly of another lost cause. After playing a grade of ball that has never been duplicated in the history of the game, the hard working Crew have again lost out to a weaker team. The fans of Wilmington have never been accused of having a yellow streak, and we don't think there will be any such accusations made now, but they certainly are not satisfied that they have had exactly a square deal in the last two weeks. 'Tis admirable, we know, to take defeat without a whimper, and if the season had ended two weeks ago, under the circumstances existing then, this column would have been the last one to chirp, except in a congratulatory vein to the winner, but events have transpired since then of which every one interested in the League is aware which it will take many a day to erase from memory.

There never was a set of ball players worked harder for anything than our boys have for that rag, and if we, who have had nothing to do but sit idly and watch their determined, continuous struggle for it, are sore, we can imagine how much greater must be their disappointment at realizing that it has all been for naught. But we will recall that, for such a record as they have made in the last two months cannot go unrewarded, and the tale will leak out somehow of how they were ousted of what they justly earned, and if it does nothing else, it will put them on easy street next season. Inside of the next two days they will probably all leave, and it is needless to say that Wilmington hates to turn loose as fine set of gentlemen and ball players as they are, but "Bill" Struthers says he has a good strong cord tied to all

PENNANT TO RAILROADERS

Three Games in Rocky Mount Yesterday and Wilson Dropped Them All—Attendance Greatest on Record—Scores.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Rocky Mount, N. C., Sept. 5.—Three games today won by the crew from their formidable rival, Wilson, gave the Railroaders undisputed possession of the top rung and after having taken cellar in the first series as a fixture, they lived up to the slogan of "watch us climb," and made a whirlwind finish of the second series, winning out by hard consistent ball, under the able leadership of Mr. Pat Conners.

There has been over 500 visitors in the city and over 2,000 people saw the Tobacconists defeated. Today broke all records in attendance and interest so far as the National game in this city is concerned.

All three of the games were hard fought throughout and they abounded in the startling. Hitting the ball with the men on corners tells how the crew won. The best on the Tobacconist pitching staff, McKeithan, Stewart and Hearne, were used in an effort to stem the winning of the Railroaders. The entire crew is deserving of honored mention and each man filled his job like a veteran.—Especially deserving of mention is the work of "Heiney" Gastmeyer, of the crew, who took 18 chances without an error and many of them hit robbers; also it was his slashing two-bagger that started the scoring in the first game and he won the second by duplicating the trick. Creagan's two-base shit with three men on, won the third game.

In the morning game, after Wilson scored in the sixth, Forgue got on for the crew in their half of the inning. Gastmever sent Stewart in the air on a board-ripper in left that tied the score and before this flinger could settle down, three other Railroaders had circled the corners:

In the first afternoon game, in opening after two were on and two were out, Gastmeyer swatted to centerfield for two bases and gave the crew a lead the Tobacconists were powerless to overcome, owing to Boyle's effectiveness. Heine pitched a great game with the exception of this inning. The crew fielded perfectly.

"Take neither Taft nor Roosevelt" advises the Norfolk Landmark. Let's make it unanimous.

Col. Roosevelt now announces that he favors publicity of campaign subscriptions. The Ex-President seems to have been deeply convicted under the Bryan preachments. He has appropriated about all the ideas Bryan ever conceived, but is promulgating them as his own.

If the South has had its share of prosperity under Republican administions without having supported the Republican party, it can continue to be prosperous by not being Republican. The Southern States can make sure of decent state governments under the Democracy and at the same time enjoy prosperity equal to that of any other portion of the country.

The State Dispatch, a Republican paper published at Burlington, N. C., claims that Marion Butler "is the father of rural free delivery." Tom Watson, of Georgia, claims that he is its father and there used to be hard feelings between Butler and Watson on that account. Rural free delivery existed in several European countries a hundred years before Butler and Watson were born.

All the Republican talk you now hear about a tariff commission to handle the tariff question scientifically, is intended for campaign consumption. It is hoped to appease the wrath of the consumers because of the burdens placed upon them by the Aldrich-Payne tariff. It is not a concession but another method of fooling the people into a continuance of the Republican policy of protection.

After listening to one of Roosevelt's speeches in Kansas some one was bold enough to tell him that he is preaching socialism. A dispatch says "he never smiled." It is further said that Roosevelt is radical compared with Bryan. How do Roosevelt Democrats feel since they supported the Rough Rider because they didn't believe in Bryanism? It is hoped they feel like something has been "broken off" in them.

If the Democrats of North Carolina keep on naming their strong men for the Legislature, the General Assembly which is to meet next January, will be the most representative of all the Legislatures for many years. Now comes Robeson county with a proposition to send to the House of Representatives Dr. B. F. McMillan. Dr. McMillan is a gentleman of splendid qualifications and takes rank with the best men in the State. As a legislator he would be an honor both to his county and State.

The Republicans are fond of regaling us about our wealth per capita and dealing in tremendous figures showing our progress as a nation. Our individual wealth is measured by what we have in our pockets and that probably isn't 30 cents because of the increased cost of living expenses under a government administered by a party with extravagant ideas and a policy which enriches a few and lets the great masses shift for themselves. As a matter of course we make National progress in spite of the Republican party, but if we did not increase our wealth in accordance with our National increase in population we would have nothing to boast of. The natural resources and the intelligence and industry of our people create wealth and make progress and the man who expects to have a dollar in his pocket knows quite well that he will have to work for it instead of depending upon any political party in existence

LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT.

In Sunday's Star the Hon. Iredell Meares, of Wilmington, Republican nominee for Congress in this District, gives us a disquisition upon the "local self-government" plank of the State Republican platform. However he failed utterly to elucidate. Upon the genuine principle of local self-government as it has ever been contended for by the Democratic party, Mr. Meares presented the matter rather profoundly but what he said loses its effect, following as it did a prelude painfully endeavoring to involve the Democratic Congressional Convention at Wrightsville in the more or less abused principle. It was like dropping from the ridiculous to the sublime, reversing, as it were, the old adage.

To drag in the Wrightsville convention was far-fetched and absurd, but obviously it was for the purpose of widening the Democratic breach, a motive so palpable that it even fails to rank as good politics. Democrats will be wary how they lend themselves to consider for a moment that local self-government is at all endangered, least of all by such doings as result from the mere party wrangles of either the Democratic or Republican parties. The Republican State platform simply beclouds a real principle with a subterfuge that is not too nebulous to fail of recognition by the alert minded.

Mr. Meares seems to take the "self-government" plank in the State Republican platform seriously, but he failed to tell us the "crying need" of it in a campaign such as is to be waged in North Carolina from now till the 8th of November. What the voters of the State really want to know, and know now, is whether the Butler-Morehead idea of "local self-government" involves the question of local option or whether it does not. Prohibitionists want to know whether it aims stealthily at opening up the liquor agitation anew, while local optionists would like to know whether that plank is simply a bait or a sincere pledge. Moses Harshaw and other Republicans avow that it refers to the whiskey question and other Republicans are sincere enough to declare that it was put in the platform as a "joker." If they are right, Mr. Meares is wrong in his conception of its meaning, and if Mr. Meares is right the Harshaw interpreters should be called down by State Chairman Morehead.

The fact is, a platform plank which is suspicious is a poor campaign issue. Anything ambiguous in a party platform and capable of two or more, or double-barrel, constructions, smacks too much of deception to be seriously laid before the intelligent and patriotic people of North Carolina as a campaign issue. Indeed, if the white people of North Carolina have not all the local self-government they want they can trust themselves to secure all they need without depending upon the Republican party for seizing upon a popular principle that has so long been Democratic thunder. The mere mention of it indicates its Democratic source. If the so-called "Respectable Republican party," as promised by Butler and Morehead, is now waking up to the importance and alleged need of local self-government, it is a new convert to the principle since the days of Republican-Populist fusion. The fusion Legislature gave Wilmington a government, not eleced by the people, but appointed by Governor D. L. Russell at Raleigh. He appointed six white aldermen and four negro aldermen, and they "did the rest" in a manner that made even the adopted sons of North Carolina bag their heads.

Local self-government is indeed exceedingly important, and Cooley, Dillon and other eminent jurists were following right along Democratic lines and not along the lines of the Federalist Republican party which gradually has curtailed State power and historically has continuously eliminated representative government. Mr. Meares should know that Republican insurgency today is because Speaker Cannon and his committee robbed the people's Representatives of their power by pigeonholing their bills and only permitting such legislation as the Aldriches, and the Cannons saw proper for Congress to consider. Even now the Republican President wants to take the taxing power out of the hands of the representatives of the people and refer it to a Tariff Commission not representing the people who are to pay the tariff taxes and benefits wrongfully voted by Republican Congresses for favored interests.

The people want all the local self-government that it is safe for them to have, but they will not trust the Republican party for something that has neither been sustained by its traditions nor plainly guaranteed by its present subterfuge. North Carolinans will trust themselves for local self-government, and certainly past experience has taught them the bitter lesson that the evils of Republicanism are more to be dreaded than any specious plea that the principle of local self-government is endangered so as you'll notice it. The different interpretations put upon "local self-government" by different Republicans, in the absence of a definite construction by Butler and Morehead as to the real "cat in the meal tub", should condemn that plank as a campaign issue in North Carolina.

REPUBLICANS IN PANIC.

Evidence of the panicy conditions prevailing in the Republican party is the continued cry of the crew for Speaker Cannon to be thrown overboard to the whale as a Republican Jonah. Even the staunch and stalwart standpat New York Tribune joins the hue and cry that Uncle Joe "must go." Declares the Tribune: "Mr. Cannon should eliminate himself before it is too late to do so with statesmanlike deliberation and poise."

There are other evidences that the standpat crowd which has used Uncle Joe from early life to old age wish to make him take a back seat in order to stay their panic and win back the insurgents. The movement to make Uncle Joe either a scapegoat or a sacrifice seems to be gathering force as it goes. At the meeting of the Republican Congressional committee at Washington it was made known that the services of Speaker Cannon as a spellbinder are not wanted in this campaign. The reason given by Republican leaders is that Cannon does not hesitate to attack the insurgents and even makes a specialty of it in his speeches. They believe the less said about insurgency the better it will be for the success of the party this Fall.

The effort now being made to make a scapegoat of Speaker Cannon is sufficient to convince him that heretofore his party has made a tool of him. As long as he could serve the interests of the party, and its "special interests" especially, he was wined and dined and lauded and spoken of for the Presidency. However, when Uncle Joe became like unto a red flag that would enrage the insurgent bull and threatens the chances of the Republican party in the coming election, there has been no hesitation to hide Uncle Joe from sight. The stalwart New York Tribune, in order to allay the panic, declares that "every week brings new evidence of the disappearance of Cannonism as an issue in the Congressional campaign." The Tribune notes that the Republican State convention in Delaware last Wednesday adopted a resolution approving the action taken by the House of Representatives last March to restrict the powers of the Speaker and to make him ineligible for service on the Committee on Rules. With that instruction for his guidance, the present Representative, William H. Head, was renominated. He stood by the Speaker in the fight to amend the rules, but the Tribune contends that Mr. Head cannot now honorably co-operate to restore the old order of the next House by re-electing Mr. Cannon. Apparently Head has no desire to commit himself further to what the Tribune calls a lost cause.

There now seems to be a fight all along the line against Speaker Cannon on the part of the standpatters who have used him till his mere shadow has become a menace. Representative J. C. Needham, of California, who has hitherto supported Mr. Cannon and who was re-nominated recently in a congressional primary, defeating an insurgent rival, has just written to the chairman of the Republican State Committee announcing that he will not vote for Mr. Cannon in the Republican House caucus. "I have no personal feeling against Speaker Cannon," he says, "but I sincerely believe that it is to the best interest of the Republican party that a change in the Speakership should be made." Representative P. P. Campbell, one of the two regulars who succeeded in winning re-nominations in the Kansas primary, has come out against Mr. Cannon. He defended his vote against amending the rules last March on the ground that they had not prevented his securing consideration for measures in which he was interested. He did not deny, however, the fact that others had not been as fortunate as he was. Now he is willing to approve the new order, which guarantees a greater equality of opportunity. Representative "Cy" Sulloway, of New Hampshire, one of the pillars, literary as well as figuratively, of the Cannon organization, is a candidate for re-nomination in the New Hampshire primary. He was asked the other day whether he would vote for Mr. Cannon in the Republican caucus and though he would not pledge himself one way or the other he said that in his opinion Mr. Cannon would not be a candidate again for the Speakership, and that he could not be elected if he should be a candidate. Commenting upon all this array of opposition to Speaker Cannon, the Tribune says:

"Testimony is thus accumulating to show that the Speaker was not foresighted when he declined the chance to retire from the field gracefully which was offered to him at the last session of Congress. He failed to read the signs of the times, and by tactlessly pressing the issue of his re-election on the voters not only caused the defeat of Representatives who had sacrificed much out of a mistaken sense of loyalty to him, but also compelled many others who wish him well personally to disassociate their fortunes from his to their regret and his annoyance and embarrassment. A guest should not overstay his welcome and have to have his parting expedited. Mr. Cannon should elimiate himself before it is too late to do so with statesmanlike deliberation and poise."

If Cannon is really a culprit, nothing more than the above were needed to totally discredit him. However, what Cannon has done has been fully endorsed by standpat Republicans for years, but in an emergency his former endorsers are willing to cast him away in order to fool the people. Uncle Joe was long honored for what now makes him dishonored, but the people who really oppose Cannonism as dangerous to representative government will vote with the Democracy and not with the Republican party which only dishonorably repudiates the Speaker because it hopes to save itself in a time of political panic.

BLADEN AND THE HIGHWAY.

Dr. Geo. L. Clark, of Clarkton, writes to the Star to call attention to the omission of Bladen county among the other counties making reports on the condition of their roads, when the Charlotte to Wilmington Highway Association was organized at Laurinburg last Friday. It was clearly an oversight on the part of the Star's representative. However, the omission of the good old county of Bladen was not intentional, and we regret it all the more because that fine county was represented by a delegation as enthusiastic and earnest as any at the convention.

Dr. Clark refers to the account of the meeting published in Saturday's Star, for on Sunday there followed an editorial in which Bladen county was mentioned along with the others. A large number of the cleverest and best citizens of Bladen participated in the organization of the Charlotte to Wilmington Highway Association and assurances were given that Bladen would see to it that her link in the highway would be ready as soon as that of any other county. Dr. Clark's note to the Star gives further assurance and we publish it here in order to show how strong is the sentiment in Bladen concerning the highway:

"Clarkton, N. C., Sept. 3.

"Editor Morning Star, Wilmington, N. C.

"Dear Sir:—In your account of the Charlotte to Wilmington highway meeting held yesterday at Laurinburg, you give account of what was being done by counties all along the line, not mentioning Bladen. We feel that this was unintentionally done. Our people, reading about the meeting and knowing we were represented, would naturally conclude that we (the delegates) did nothing. Our people are enthused over the movement and we wish to stir them to still greater efforts. About 30 miles of this highway will pass through Bladen should the roads be put in condition, and we are working to that end, knowing that if we do our part everything will be well with us.

Truly

"GEORGE L. CLARK."

We do not know of a county through which the highway will pass that will be more benefitted than Bladen. It is one of the best sections to be traversed by the Charlotte to Wilmington Highway and we are satisfied that it will attract more attention to Bladen than anything that possibly could be done to promote the development and advance the interests of the county. It will be a movement that will begin the development of Bladen along new lines, and every county along the route certainly will be given a new impetus along the line of progress. The Star is glad to see the people of Bladen so jealous of their attitude towards the highway that they wish to be set right. That is the right spirit and we are glad to do the square thing by Bladen at all times.

The African lion was not near so entertaining as the American Taft hunt.

Evidently the Norfolk Landmark enjoys a row and is willing to promote it, for it says: "Fit him back, Mr President!"

As long as Roosevelt keeps putting his foot in it, there will be justification of a continuance of the Taft smile that won't come off.

Republicans are for protection because the bosses are for it. The bosses are for it because protected special interests and political expediency demand it.

Even Senator Lodge in Massachusetts alludes to the making of tariff laws as "the old, unscientific method." He also must be afraid of being made a scapegoat.

Uncle Joe's elimination from politics so far as the Republican party is concerned is all on paper. The Democratic party is the only power that will snuff out Uncle Joeism.

A New York court has enjoined a quarrelsome woman from speaking to her husband for one month. That may stop her tongue but no doubt she will make up for it by "looking daggers" at him till the 30 days are up.

Announcement comes from the Far East that "China wants Roosevelt as adviser." As long as pig tails are popular in China Colonel Roosevelt would advise them that the right kind of man should wear a pigtail. Thus he would stand in with the majority of the chinks.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Dr. J. A. Holmes, who for years has worked hand in hand with Gifford Pinchot in behalf of the Appalachian forest reserve bill, has at last got his appointment as director of the new bureau of mines. Ballinger was opposed to Dr. Holmes because of the friendship that existed between that gentleman and Mr. Pinchot, but he was so universally endorsed that the President doubtless felt it wise to appoint him. It was Ballinger on one side and the rest of the country on the other.—Asheville Gazette-News (Rep.)

"I will bring the corporations to time," thundered Roosevelt. He brought the Sugar Trust to time with a handsome contribution to the campaign fund which was used in securing his election. He brought the Standard Oil Trust to time with a campaign contribution. He brought "practical man" E. H. Harriman, to time with a contribution of $260,000 which Mr. Harriman said changed 50,000 votes in New York. This self-promoting demagogue, who now prates piously of "honesty," and fills the air with frapped platitudes, has a "bringing to time" record which speaks louder than words.—Charlotte News.

Floating sluggishly at the mercy of the waves for over three years a pint bottle containing the address of William H. Windolph, this city, traveled across the Atlantic ocean and was finally picked up off the eastern coast of the Azores about five weeks ago. The wayward travels of the little bottle are most mysterious. It crossed the Atlantic or at least reached the other shore; whether its course was straight eastward or whether currents or winds took it miles in detour before it reached its destination is a subject of conjecture. On Jan. 27th, 1907, Mr. Windolph on his way to Tampa and Key West passed down the coast of the Carolinas in a Merchants and Miners steamship, the Merrimack. Off North Carolina in an idle moment he put his card within a whiskey bottle and pushing in the cork against the rail of the vessel tossed it overboard. Until it disappeared from sight in the green waves Mr. Windolph watched the tiny adventuret, never thinking to hear from it again. Three and one-half years after the card had been sent out on the sea a strange letter came to him from the fishing firm of Manuel Vasconcelles & Co., Spain. Within the envelope was the same card which he had sent out, unstained by the water, uninjured after its long voyage. With the card was a letter stating that it had been picked up in a whiskey bottle off the eastern coast of the Azores, in the province of Prala, by one of the crew of the fishing smack D. Carlos, D. Lonza, captain. The letter was in excellent English, but from the style had evidently been written by an educated Spaniard. It did not state the exact date of the finding of the bottle.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

PRIMARY OFFICERS NAMED

All Doubt Removed as to Whether New Hanover Will Take Part in Voting Contest—Committee Holds Executive Session.

All doubt, if any really existed, as to whether New Hanover county would participate in the voting contest September 15th to determine the Democratic nominee for Congress in the Sixth District was removed yesterday at noon when the County Democratic Executive Committee held an executive session in the Court House and named the registrars and pollholders for the primary to be held under the direction of the Harmony Committee of the State Democratic Executive Committee. The committee was in session more than an hour, some other matters of interest to the party being threshed out.

There will be no new registration for the voting contest, it is understood, the registrars named yesterday being expected to fulfill the duties of a registrar only at the polls on the date of the primary. It was stated by a member of the committee that the registrars and pollholders were appointed without regard to who they favor for Congress.

In the absence of the chairman, Marsden Bellamy, Esq., the meeting was called to order by John Gafford, Esq., the secretary, who stated that the first duty of the meeting would be the election of an acting chairman. Upon motion Thos. W. Davis, Esq., was elected to act as chairman. Mr. Davis stated that he understood that the meeting was called for the purpose of appointing registrars and pollholders for the voting contest to be held throughout the Sixth Congressional District September 15th. After the roll call the chairman announced that he would entertain motions for registrars and pollholders. At this juncture Mr. Garret Walker made the point that he always understood that the meetings of the executive committee were strictly private and suggested that all those not members be excluded. Chairman Davis stated that it was for the committeemen to say whether or not the meeting should be held behind closed doors. Then Mr. Walker moved that only the committeemen be allowed in the meeting. The motion carried. Woodus Kellum, Esq., leader of the Godwin forces in this county, was present and stated that he understood that it this meeting the friends of the respective candidates would be given an opportunity to make suggestions as to the officers for the voting contest and therefore he was present and desired to be heard when the time came for naming these officers. Mr. Kellum then retired. In going out he met Marsden Bellamy, Esq., chairman of the executive committee, who was then entering the court room. He made practically the same statement to Mr. Bellamy that he had made in the meeting. The doors, every one of them, to the court room were then closed, and what took place in the meeting after that time is thus given by the secretary, John Gafford, Esq.:

Upon arrival of Chairman Marsden Bellamy the acting chairman relinquished the chair. The committee, after discussing a matter which will be more fully considered later, named registrars and pollholders for the voting contest to be held September 15th to determine the Democratic nominee for Congress from this district. The following are the registrars and pollholders, the first named being the registrars and the two last named the pollholders:

First Ward—O. E. Merritt; Capt. John Barry and John Dukes.

Second—W. W. Hodges; M. O'Brien and F. S. Shepherd.

Third—W. N. Harriss; H. O. Wallace and J. H. Aman.

Fourth—George Harriss; H. W. Malloy and A. D. Wessell.

Fifth—John W. Gafford; W. E. Watson (the second pollholder to be named later).

Cape Fear Township—W. B. Hand; P. H. Raspberry and W. H. Shearin.

Harnett, seven mile post—John A. Everett, Sr.; Geo. L. Smith and James N. Shepherd.

Delgado—C. L. Taylor; J. S. Williams and Coley Reynolds.

Masonboro—John A. Farrow; D. A. Montgomery and Henry Horne.

Federal Point—Melvin Horne; W. A. Hewett and S. A. Lewis.

The committee then took up the matter of registrars and judges and pollholders of the general election to be held in November. The committee decided to recommend to the County Board of Elections the following, the first named as the registrar and the second as the Democratic poll holder, the second pollholder to be recommended by the Republicans:

First Ward—W. L. West; O. E. Merritt.

Second—W. W. Hodges; F. S. Shepherd.

Third—A. G. Hankins; L. B. Rogers.

Fourth—George Harriss; Ben Jackson.

Fifth—John W. Gafford; W. E. Watson.

Cape Fear Township—J. H. Johnson; W. H. Rhodes.

Harnet, seven-mile post—J. A. Everett, Sr.; Geo. L. Smith.

Delgado—C. L. Taylor; J. S. Williams.

Masonboro—John A. Farow; Henry Horne.

Federal Point—Melvin Horne; W. A. Hewett.

The following are the members of the committee who were present at the meeting yesterday: First Ward, W. C. Boesch; Second, L. M. Bunting; Third, Marsden Bellamy, Esq.; Fourth, Thos. W. Davis; Fifth, John W. Gafford; Harnett township, Garret Walker; Masonboro, J. A. Farrow; Cape Fear, J. H. Johnson.

RURAL LETTER CARRIERS

Semi-Annual Meeting of Eastern Carolina Association Held Here Yesterday—Endorsement of Good Roads Appeal.

The semi-annual meeting of the Rural Letter Carriers' Association of Eastern Carolina, held in Postmaster T. E. Wallace's office, this city, yesterday morning, was featured by the unanimous endorsement of the appeal regarding the good roads movement recently issued by Mr. Ed. D. Pearsall, of Rocky Point, one of the best known and most active rural letter carriers in the State.

The meeting was well attended, five counties being represented. Mr. Pearsall, who was a delegate to the meeting of the State Association, held in Raleigh in July, made his report and read his appeal in behalf of good roads, which the association endorsed. Every carrier present heartily approved the movement to connect the mountains and the sea with a great highway. Yesterday afternoon the carriers enjoyed an oyster roast at Wrightsville Beach and left later in the day for their homes, declaring that they had spent a most pleasant and profitable day. The appeal of Mr. Pearsall is as follows:

"Dear Brothers:—Do you know the heaviest tax we bear is 'bad roads?' Some of you, a very few, have improved roads to travel, and know the advantages to be derived therefrom. We address ourselves not only to you, but also to those who are each day plodding through mud or sand and over rocks and hills, and ask that you send the small sum of $1 to Joseph Hyde Pratt, Secretary, Chapel Hill, N. C., and become a member of the North Carolina Good Roads Association. For this membership fee you will receive in return a year's subscription to Southern Good Roads, and can feel that you are contributing a small amount, which will be used for the publication of good road literature to be distributed broadcast throughout the State. An impetus will be given to the good road cause, and you will be both receiving and giving information, which, if utilized, will in the end add greatly to the pleasure and happiness of yourself, your neighbor, and the State.

"The North Carolina Good Roads Association is not only sending out literature relating to good roads, but is assisting in the good road work by sending men who have made a study of the existing conditions in the counties to make addresses at various meetings on the general subject of good roads.

"Faithfully yours,

"E. D. PEARSALL, Vice President, "N. C. Rural Delivery Carriers' Association, and a Member of the N. C. Good Roads Association."

CITY BOARD OF HEALTH.

No Meeting Yesterday on Account of Lack of Quorum—Reports.

The meeting of the City Board of Health called for 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Mayor's office at the City Hall did not materialize; no one was on hand for the meeting except Dr. Joseph Akerman, city superintendent of health, who stated that the meeting would probably be held this afternoon.

The report of the health department for the month of August shows that there were 40 deaths during the month; 16 whites and 24 colored; 89 births, 34 whites and 55 colored. There were 6,702 inspections of premises; 3,278 surface closets ordered cleaned; 1,300 orders issued for disinfectants and 900 orders filled. The report on contagious diseases shows that there were seven new cases of diphtheria during the month and none remaining September 1st; two cases of scarlet fever remaining from July, but both released during the month; two cases of smallpox remaining August 1st, five new cases reported in August and six released, leaving one remaining September 1st. There were 36 fumigations during the month.

The report of Dr. Thos. B. Carroll, city meat and dairy inspector, as made to Dr. Akerman for the month of August is as follows:

"During the month of August I made 33 inspections of dairies and dairy farms and found the sanitary conditions and health of cattle and attendants good. The cow lots and barn yards are still bad, owing to the heavy rains. I made 437 post-examinations of slaughtered meats, as follows: 146 cattle; 223 sheep, with only one condemnation—a beef shipped here from the country."

Concerts Every Afternoon.

The music loving public of Wilmington will be glad to know that they will have an opportunity of listening to concerts at Lumina every afternoon this week. The Lumina orchestra will play every afternoon at 4:00 P. M. for concerts, and every evening for dancing. Without doubt this is the pleasantest time of the year to visit the beach, and there is no better way to enjoy a day at the beach than to take a picnic lunch and spend the day at Lumina where one can get the benefit of the ocean breezes and listen to good music. It will be especially attractive on the beach at night all this week on account of this being the moonlight period. The sound and the ocean are always beautiful in the moonlight, but especially so during the September moon.

THE SOUTHERN NATIONAL BANK

OBSERVANCE OF LABOR DAY

Pretty General Suspension of Business—Baseball Games Claimed Many—Others Went to Lumina and Carolina.

Although there was no formal celebration in this city, or section of the one day in the year set apart in honor of the laboring man all Wilmington joined earnestly in the spirit of the day, with the result that business was pretty much at a standstill throughout the city, especially in the afternoon. The day was regarded by many as one exclusively for rest, while others took advantage of the opportunity to witness the baseball games at League Park and still others spent the day, or a portion of it, very delightfully at the beaches. Some few during the afternoon visited the places of amusement in the city and at night all the retreats were well crowded.

In some places the day was very elaborately celebrated by the labor organizations with public gatherings, addressed by noted speakers on questions affecting the laboring man and all others, sumptuous dinners and street parades, but in Wilmington the day is always more or less quietly spent, probably due to the fact that there are unrivaled beaches in easy reach where the people may spend the day in a most delightful manner—something that every city that joined in the observation cannot boast of.

There were comparatively few people on the streets during the day except those en route to or from the steamer Wilmington and at the junction where nearly all began and ended their journey to the baseball park and Wrightsville Beach. The morning baseball game attracted about 800 persons, while the afternoon contest brought out over 2,000 fans and fannabelles. Hundreds went early to Wrightsville Beach, where they spent the day. Many others chose Carolina Beach as the place to enjoy themselves and the steamer Wilmington was well crowded on each of its trips down the river.

The banks and all public offices were closed throughout the day and the postoffice observed holiday hours, while many of the business houses were closed in the afternoon in order to allow the employes a much needed few hours' rest and recreation.

Interest in the afternoon was divided between the baseball game and the athletic events in front of Lumina, Wrightsville Beach, the last named always proving popular with hundreds of people every Labor Day. Shortly after 12 o'clock people began to go to the beach in large numbers to witness the contests. By 2 o'clock, the hour for the events to begin, the spacious verandas at Lumina and the beach for some distance were lined with an expectant throng. The contests were not finished until 5:30 o'clock and interest never abated for a minute. Each of the events had a number of entries and most of them were very exciting. The winners of the different events were as follows:

One Hundred yard dash (under 16 years), first, L. Boone; second, J. Le Moyne; third, W. F. Morrison; time 15 seconds.

One hundred yard dash, (16 years and over), first, H. Solomon; second, G. Smith; third, R. G. Steele; time 11 4-5 seconds.

THE CRYSTAL PALACE.

Opened For the Season Yesterday Under New Management.

The Crystal Palace, on Second, between Market and Princess streets, which has been dark during the Summer months, opened yesterday for the season with Mr. F. W. Peiffer as manager. The opening bill was splendid and the large crowds that attended the performances were greatly pleased. Manager Peiffer says, however, that the bill will be improved from week to week. The black face comedian, Ernest Linwood, was bright and original and kept the audience laughing all the time he was on the stage. Miss Mabel Palmer, the dainty singing and dancing soubrette, made a hit at each performance, while Searelli and Neamen, the grotesque clowns, were exceedingly clever and pleasing. Mr. E. J. Reilly in his illustrated songs added greatly to each performance. A fine Western motion picture was also shown. The theatre will be open afternoons and evenings as formerly.

FIRST BIG CATCH MULLETS

Fishermen on Middle ound Caught 3,000 Bunches Yesterday—Purse Seining Will be Tried Again—New Fish House.

Fishermen on Middle Sound yesterday reported to the fish dealers in the city a catch of 3,000 bunches of the large September mullets, this being the first big catch of the season, which has been unusually late on account of continuous southwest winds. The big haul was made by Messrs. H. B. Shepard and Geo. R. Smith.

Fishermen from all the sounds reported good catches, averaging between two and three hundred bunches, and for the first time this season the market and local dealers will have a plentiful supply of the large mullets. The catch made by Messrs. Shepard and Smith was bought by the Wilmington Fish Company and Mr. Ed Taylor. The wind is still blowing from the southwest and while the fishermen are hoping it will shift to the northeast soon, they stated that when catches are made during the southwest wind they are usually good, but it always augurs a late season.

For the first time in several years purse seining will be attempted this season at Middle Sound. The gasolene launch Thelma has been fitted up for this purpose and will be placed in service within two weeks by Messrs. Peterson, John F. Holt and Ed Hankins. Purse seining was tried at Middle Sound several years ago, on a somewhat larger scale, and at the first haul two car loads of fish were caught. The Thelma is owned by her crew and besides fishing in the sound will engage in deep sea fishing, making short trips to sea. The Thelma on each trip will carry out two purse boats. The fish caught by the crew will be handled this Fall by Mr. D. J. Fergus.

The Union Fish Company, operated by Mr. D. J. Fergus and Mr. Ed Taylor, yesterday moved into their new quarters, which was built by the Plate Ice Company for their use. The new fish house is located on Water street, between Orange and Dock, and is fitted up in a splendid manner for the business.

Evans, No. 817 North Third street, in the presence of only a few relatives and intimate friends. Mr. Edwards holds a position in the car shops of the Atlantic Coast Line in this city. He and his bride have a wide circle of friends who will be interested in the announcement of their marriage. They will reside on Hanover street, between Third and Fourth.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Elwood, Ind.—"Your remedies have cured me and I have only taken six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was sick three months and could not walk. I suffered all the time. The doctors said I could not get well without an operation, for I could hardly stand the pains in my sides, especially my right one, and down my right leg. I began to feel better when I had taken only one bottle of Compound, but kept on as I was afraid to stop too soon."—Mrs. SADIE MULLEN, 2728 N. B. St., Elwood, Ind.

Why will women take chances with an operation or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion, and nervous prostration.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

She will proceed after obtaining provisions.

CHILD MORTALITY IN SUMMER

Every summer the newspapers are full of horrifying stories of the death list among infants and children and extremely old people. In nursing infants and children still being fed largely on milk this is usually due to the quality of the milk itself, and in aged people to a general weakening of the system because of extreme heat. Still, a great many of the deaths are due to digestive trouble, and these can usually be avoided by the timely use of a reliable laxative-tonic. There is no remedy for this purpose that lends itself better to the uses of children and aged people than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which for a generation has been the reliance of thousands of mothers and which is gaining in favor every year. This remedy, unlike a purgative, salt, laxative water or "infant medicine," contains nothing that is dangerous to the health of the weakest or youngest person, and its repeated use does not form a habit, as is the case with narcotic remedies for children. Go to your druggist this very day and buy a 50 cent or $1.00 bottle, and like thousands of other parents, keep it on hand for an emergency. You can obtain a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE by addressing

Hewett Shipping Tag.

Mr. John E. Hewett, the well known printer of this city, has recently patented and is now putting on the market a unique and quite a useful shipping tag that is rapidly coming into general use. The tag is made of tough cardboard, folded in the middle, and on one of the outsides may be printed the name and address of the consignee with name of consgnor while on the reverse side the consignee may place his business card or other announcement to the shipper. On the inside blanks are made for a complete invoice of the shipment, together with space for any remarks that the consignor may desire to make about the shipment. The tag is a unique and quite a valuable invention.

List of Entrants to be Published in the Near Future.

THE NOMINATING BALLOTS

Each Contestant Allowed One That Will Count 2,000 Votes—Five Vote Coupons Should be Collected—Early Start.

Interest in the Morning Star's great popularity contest, about to be inaugurated, has certainly been great and has attracted attention throughout Eastern Carolina and elsewhere in the State, many inquiries having come yesterday to the Contest Manager from even the most remote points.

There are several reasons why this contest, the largest of its kind ever attempted in this part of the State, is meeting with such success. The public is quick to perceive that the paper is willing to concede everything for an extension of its circulation on a legitimate basis; another thing advertisers realize that the consummation of a deal of this kind will provide them with a medium for their announcements second to none in the State. The paper is the oldest daily in the State and the public has that measure of confidence in it that goes with age and standing for all these many years. The plan has been generally commended and the public has been kind enough to take to the campaign as a progressive step worthy of a greater and a bigger and a brighter Wilmington.

Inquiries Rife.

It has been inquired on many sides how a publication could afford to do such a thing. The question might be answered in two ways. First: A campaign such as this contest, is a great advertisement for the paper. Second: The Star desires to increase its already large circulation, and takes this means of doing so.

Many candidates are now among their friends securing subscriptions to the paper. The Star does not expect to get rich on this campaign, it simply desires to extend its subscription list, and is going to pay for it in valuable premiums.

Names Should be Entetred Now.

The contest is not yet started, so enter your name as soon as possible, and get an equal chance with the rest. The contest manager desires to make it plain in regard to the 5-vote coupon which appears daily in the paper. All that is required is to write the prospective contestant's name on the coupon, and each one will count five votes. The only way money is accepted on this contest is when it is actually paid for subscriptions.

Five-Vote Coupons Daily.

A five-vote coupon appears daily in the paper and of these a contestant may secure as many as possible. There also appears a nominating blank daily, calling for 2,000 votes, and of these each contestant is allowed one to their credit, and in that way giving a start in the contest of 2,000 votes, and with the five vote coupons which they may gather, and the subscriptions which they might receive to the Star, a contestant will find that in a very short time, their number of votes will have reached a very large number.

Now is the time to get interested. There is nothing started yet, and will not be until next Monday. An equal chance is given to all to win one of the valuable prizes.

Young Woman's Contest.

Contest No. 1 is for young women, married or single, and has been divided into six districts so that all of the contestants will not be working against each other.

In this contest the Star is offering four Grand Prizes, and 24 district prizes, consisting of $500.00 in cash, a handsome upright piano, two trips to Cuba, with all expenses, a Shetland Pony, Harness and Trap, six Handsome Diamond Rings, Six Turkish Rockers, Six Gold Watches and Six $25.00 Bank Accounts.

The young woman, city or country, who has the largest number of votes to her credit at the close of the contest will be awarded the $500.00 in cash. The second highest will be awarded the Piano. Third highest will receive the Trips to Cuba, selecting her own companion to accompany her, and the fourth highest will receive a Shetland Pony and complete outfit.

Should the second highest contestant, however, prefer the trips or the Pony to her Piano, she would be allowed the privilege of choosing her prize, as the largest numbers of votes of course, have first choice of the prizes.

Twenty-four District Prizes.

After the Four Grand Prizes have been awarded there will be 24 district prizes divided evenly among the six districts making four prizes sure to go to each of the six districts into which this contest has been divided.

A coupon good for five votes appears daily in the Morning Star, and of these a young woman may gather as many as she possibly can daily, and have her friends gather them for her, and if she sends them into the office before the date at the bottom has expired, they will each one count for five votes to her credit.

The nomination blanks which also appear daily, are to be used for nominating only, and only one will be credited to each contestant. These nominating blanks count for 2,000 votes, and enable the young woman to make a good start when she first enters the contest.

How Votes Are Secured.

Contestants and their friends may gather as many of the ten vote daily ballots as they can possibly secure, each one placing the candidate's names just that much nearer the Grand Prizes.

Another way to secure votes is to gather subscriptions to the Morning Star. Votes will be allowed on new subscriptions, on arrearges, and also on renewal of subscriptions.

Year's Subscription 3,000 Votes.

A year's subscription to the Morning Star is $6.00 and on that subscription 3,000 votes will be given on a new subscriber. The schedule on four months and six months subscriptions is also fully outlined in today's announcement. A full list of premiums, the schedule of votes, the distribution of the prizes, in fact every detail pertaining to the contest is fully explained in the full page announcement today.

Now is the time to enter the contest, for an early start is half the battle. Send in your name or that of your friend at once to the Contest Manager of the Morning Star, and get the contest fully explained, and the winning will be easy.

Who May Enter Contest.

Any young woman, married or single, residing in Wilmington or the States of North or South Carolina, is eligible to compete in this contest. A young woman does not have to be a subscriber to the paper in order to enter. All that is necessary is to send in the name and address, and assurance that the person entering is in good standing.

No relative or anyone connected with the Star office will be allowed as a contestant.

Contest No. 2—For Boys.

The Star has also put on a contest affording the hustling boys of its territory a chance to put in their spare time during the next few weeks before school opens to win a handsome prize for their efforts.

A coupon appears daily for the boys' contest, and each one of the votes counts for five, and the young man may secure as many of these as he possibly can get together. His friends may gather them and send them in for him, just so they are sent in before the date at the bottom has expired. They will count to the young man's credit for five votes each.

This contest is entirely separate from the contest for young women which has just been inaugurated, but the same schedule of votes will be used for both contests. That is 3,000 votes on a new yearly subscription, 1,000 votes on a new six months subscription, and 400 votes on a new four months subscription.

There will be three prizes for the young men in the city of Wilmington, and three prizes for young men outside of the city of Wilmington, so in that manner this contest has been divided into two districts. The first prize for each district for the young men will be $50.00 each in cash. The second prize for each of the two districts will be handsome gold watches, and the third prizes for each of the two districts will be smaller watches.

A young man may send in one of the nomination blanks, thereby starting his name in the paper with 2,000 votes, and he may gather as many of the five vote coupons as he can possibly secure. Besides that he may secure subscriptions to the Morning Star, and secure large number of votes on each one brought in.

S.S.S. UNEQUALED FOR BAD BLOOD

Normal, healthy blood contains millions of tiny red corpuscles, which are the vitalizing and nourishing element of the circulation. These corpuscles are constantly forming in healthy systems by the extraction of nutriment from food eaten, and this nourishment is then supplied through the circulation to every portion of the system. Any system which does not receive the proper amount of blood nourishment is not prepared to withstand the countless disorders that assail it. Bad blood can not nourish the body, the circulation must be pure, rich and strong if we would enjoy good health. Bad blood manifests itself in various ways. With some it takes the form of skin diseases and eruptions, others become bilious and malarious, with sallow complexions, torpid liver, etc. If the germs and impurities in the blood are of a more virulent nature then bad blood becomes more serious and produces Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, and like troubles. Nothing equals S. S. S. for bad blood. It is Nature's own blood purifier, made from roots, herbs and barks. It goes into the circulation and removes every impurity or poison, strengthens and enriches the blood, and in this way supplies the body with the proper amount of nourishment to maintain good health. S. S. S. is likewise the finest of all tonics and while purifying the blood builds up every portion of the system. S. S. S. cures every ailment coming from bad blood, and it does so simply because it purifies the circulation. Book on the blood sent free to all who write. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

COTTON INTERESTS OF SOUTH

Messrs. Scales, Hayne and Brown Address Letter to Producers—Decidedly Bullish View of Situation by Operators.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

New York, Sept. 5.—The coming year, in our opinion, offers to cotton producers an opportunity which is perhaps not fully appreciated. Hence the following:

Last season we realized the crop to be a very short one, and 15 cents appeared a reasonable figure to us under the circumstances. That price, we may say, was maintained against the combined efforts of the entire world, and, indeed, the only reason the price did not rule higher was the fact that the crop then available followed the longest one on record—14,000,000 bales. Accordingly, there were then very large visible and invisible stocks in spinners' hands, as well as a large supply of manufactured goods on spinners', jobbers' and retailers' shelves.

It would have been impossible to maintain last season's price if that price had not been justified in every particular. All interests fought the advance strongly, so that this season finds spinners, jobbers and retailers with the smallest supplies known since the war. In other words, the situation in this respect is exactly opposite from last year, at the same date, and there is absolutely no reserve stock to fall back on to supply any shortage that may develop.

The world would require a supply of 13,500,000 bales minimum this coming season to hold stocks for this time next year in a position no more strained than they occupy today. A crop of 12,500,000 bales would be given away if sold under 16c. The world would have to take it all at even higher prices if it were held for same.

And what crop may we expect? Last year the States, exclusive of Texas and Oklahoma, produced about 7,500,000 bales, and there is reason to expect a larger yield from the same States this season especially when the crop is three weeks late. In fact, any increase must be extremely small, and on the contrary there is a strong probability that instead of an increase there will be a decrease. Texas and Oklahoma certainly do not indicate over 4,000,000, and these figures also are more likely to be reduced than raised. Therefore, the total yield indicated is certainly not more than from 11,500,000 to 12,000,000 bales.

Now at the opening this year the trade is hovering over the market like a vulture, hoping that the producer will rush to market his crop as he has in seasons past, even if he can get only 13 cents for it. In our judgment, those who follow such a policy will not only be robbing themselves—they will be throwing away the opportunity of a lifetime; and they will also be destroying the value of their neighbors' property.

It is a matter of little concern to us that our efforts to establish a fair price for cotton, according to the law of supply and demand, were neither realized nor appreciated by those interested last season. That is now past history, but to allow this crop to rush to market without first warning the producers of the costly mistakes they may make and the advantages they stand to realize with wisdom would not be just to the cause we espouse.

Nor do we forget the ultimate consumer. He does not believe it, but it is true, that the price of raw cotton affects him but little. Prices remained virtually unchanged to him last year, in the face of the advance recorded on the cotton exchanges, and there is every reason to believe that the actual consumption last year was larger than the year previous. What we must adjust ourselves to is a gradual yearly increase in price to supply new industries and a growing population, the world over. But this increase will make itself felt gradually in retail prices. Cotton could advance enormously before the appreciation would be felt by the ultimate consumer. Most of the cost of the finished product bought by the ultimate consumer is accounted for in the many and varied processes of manufacture, transshipments and rehandlings.

What rules the producer, though, is not the cost of manufacture, but the law of demand and supply, and to him we say that, in our belief, a crop of 11,500,000 bales would readily be consumed this season at 20 cents.

PENNANT DREAMS.

of them that are not going up, and we will undoubtedly see the most of them again next Spring.

Mr. Struthers left last evening for Goldsboro to attend a meeting of the League directors to investigate those Fayetteville-Rocky Mount games, and as the meeting was not called till 10 o'clock probably nothing will be heard here until today. He carried some strong documents in his grip, among them an affidavit signed and sworn to by Mr. J. S. Ramos, certifying that the last game of that Wednesday farce was begun at 6:13 and ended at 6:40, in that time five innings having been played in which Rocky Mount scored five runs. He further testified that the Fayetteville team made no effort to win the game as could be plainly told by any one present, as they would lay down every hit right to the pitcher, and make no attempt to run it out. Several persons who are in a position to know said yesterday that it was an impossibility to play an inning in less than seven minutes, and that if that was bona fide ball they were playing they had established a world's record. They also have evidence from a member of the Board of Aldermen of Fayetteville, and another prominent Wilmington citizen, which is of a very damaging character and relates to comments made by members of the Fayetteville team before and after the games. Should Wilmington be successful in getting all three of those games thrown out the Sailors would lead by a small margin, but should only those two Wednesday games be annulled, Rocky Mount will still lead, and will play off with Fayetteville for the pennant.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Brooklyn, Sept. 5.—After taking the morning game 5 to 1, Brooklyn won the afternoon contest from New York 3 to 2. It was a pitcher's duel between Scanlon and Drucke, but the locals took the lead in the third, Stark and Davidson scoring on their singles and Daubert's triple. The visitors tied it up in the seventh on Bridwell's scratch hit, Delvin's double and Merkle's single. Then Hummell scored the winning run in the same inning on his double, Lennox's single and Devore's fumble. Score:

"RUBE" HOWARD GETS RING

Popular Pitcher Won in the Voting Contest Last Week—Presentation of Gift on Grounds Yesterday.

"Rube" Howard, the "Old Reliable Rube," was the winner of the handsome diamond signet ring offered by the managers of the voting contest to determine the most popular member of the Wilmington baseball team in the Eastern Carolina Association. The contest, which began last Monday morning, closed Saturday night at 9 o'clock, but those selected to count the ballots did not finish their task that night.

In the name of the baseball fans of Wilmington, Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, presented to Mr. Howard the ring at League Park just before the afternoon game was called yesterday. Dr. McClure made a short but appropriate speech in presenting the token of esteem from the local fans, and the gift was most gracefully accepted by the popular baseball player.

The probable number of votes cast in the contest was greatly exaggerated in Sunday's Star, due to a statement of the enthusiastic press agent-manager of the contest, who, however, did not intend to magnify the vote—merely getting mixed up in his figures under the excitement of the closing moments of the contest. The count showed that there were cast 150,000 votes for all the players at the several voting places, "Rube" Howard leading with 15,886; a majority of only 12 votes over Brooks, another exceedingly popular player. Catcher Kite came third with a large vote.

On the outside of the ring appear this inscription: "R. L. H." and on the inside of the band was "To our Rube."

The rocking chair offered by the Wilmington Furniture Company to the person casting the largest number of votes at its store during the contest was won by Mrs. James P. Howard.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Detroit, Sept. 5.—Detroit won the afternoon contest 4 to 3. Both Lowdell and Bailey pitched good ball, but the Detroiter was a trifle steadier. Hartzell's batting and Davy Jones fielding featured.

St. Louis .. .. ..001 110 000—3 7 1
Detroit .. ..211 000 000—4 7 1

Bailey and Stephens; Loudell and Casey. Time 1:31. Umpires O'Loughlin and Egan.

Boston, Sept. 5.—Boston won the afternoon game from Washington 5 to 0 on two bases on balls, two hits, two sacrifices and a wild throw to third by Gray in the sixth inning. Up to that time Gray had allowed the locals but one hit. Score:

Boston .. ..000 005 00*—5 4 2
Washington .. .. ..00 000 000—0 8 2

Wood and Kleinow; Gray, Otey and Ainsmith. Time 1:45. Umpires Perrine and Dineen.

New York, Sept. 5.—New York and Philadelphia broke even in the Labor Day doubleheader. The morning game went to the locals 5 to 2, but Philadelphia won in the afternoon 2 to 1. The winning run, scored in the ninth, resulted from a scratch hit by Baker, Vaughn's wild pitch and Murphy's double. Score:

FISH IN NORTHEAST.

Col. Pearsall Gives a Disquisition on Bass, Shad and Other Species.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Rocky Point, N. C., Sept. 5.—Some time since your correspondent applied to the Bureau of Fisheries for a supply of shad and black bass fry to liberate in Turkey and Clayton creeks, tributaries of the Northeast river near here. The reply from the Bureau was to the effect that no shad fry was available for the Northeast Cape Fear river, owing to the laxity of the fish laws governing this stream, but a supply of black bass would be ready this Fall. Yesterday I received the following communication bearing on the subject:

"Sir:—Arrangements are being made to fill your application for fish, and unless unforeseen delay occurs the black bass allotted to you will be delivered at Rocky Point within 60 days. For receiving the fish the applicant is to provide his own receptacles, which must be perfectly clean, should hold not less than five gallons each when full, and be of sufficient number to contain a total of 30 gallons. In response to this preliminary notice, please advise by return mail whether or not you will be ready to receive the fish. Planting the fish—On arrival at the point of deposit, some of the water in the cans should be poured off and replaced by water from stream or lake until the water of the cans is of the same temperature as that of the stream in which they are to be planted. The change should be gradual, not less than one-half hour consumed in modifying the temperature 10 degrees. Respectfully,

"GEO. M. BORNER,
"Commissioner."

The black bass is erroneously known in Pender waters as "trout"; in Duplin and Sampson, is more aptly called "chub," because of its general shape and appearance. It is a voracious, omniverous fish and in its maw can be found any kind of food from small moccasins down to crawfish. It is an extremely gamy fellow and two of our experts here, Messrs. Geo. T. Jones and J. Braswell Durham, frequently bring home on the string eight pounders. They pull a nasty line, too, and your pole and line must be good or a section of it will follow the big fish, as is often the case. A number of years since some German carp fry were liberated near the railroad bridge. They have grown to immense size. One was caught over near Currie, weighing 35 pounds. William Carter, the ferryman at Lane's Ferry, who is up on "fish lore," says the German carp is only "fitten for a hog to eat." a coarse, cotton-grained, untoothsome fellow, that is a sucker and destroys an immense number of fish eggs on bottoms of rivers and creeks. The sturgeon is rarely seen nowadays in these waters, possibly like the English sparrow by other small songsters, the carp has defeated the sturgeon by devouring its eggs. Just after the flood of 1908, when the waters receded into the river and creek banks the catch of perch and bass was the largest on record for a series of years. Those fish were real fat—about as much so as a September mullet from the Sound. The foraging grounds were over fields where grass-hoppers, larvae, crickets, bugs, spiders and such fish delicacies were to be had without limit or hindrance. It was an ill wind that blew no good, so it was a bad freshet that fed no fish. No fatter, finer fresh fish ever swam than during that Fall. It's a case of "got to." Hams 25c per lb., when biddy cackles twelve times, it means 25c; Spring chickens fetch 50c, beef steak 15c per lb. Mushrooms and pisciculture will be the sobsistence of those who are not wealthy nabobs. The farmers are growing richer, the world is growing better, etc.

Rocky Point will not only be the garden spot for the trucker and horticulturist, but will be an ideal location for the fisherman when those bass attain two years' growth. In those excavations made by the late G. Z French for rock for the new inlet at Lane's Ferry, large bass disport themselves. The waters dry out every two years and five to eight pound fish of this variety are there found which shows that they grow with rapidity. Ichthyologists state that the shad gets its growth in two years; that they swim a circuit around by Norway and Sweden and return to the river from whence they were hatched. Wonderful knowing fish! It would be a government job to look after their migration. E. D. P.

odore Roosevelt, as did Representative Hanna, who declared:

"It is lives of men like Abraham Lincoln, George Washington and Theodore Roosevelt that yung Americans will look up to in the future. The lives of such men are a great inspiration to us."

In introducing Col. Roosevelt, President C. Creager, of Fargo College, spoke of the influence of his early life on a cattle ranch in North Dakota, upon his entire political career. Expressing the gratification of the people of North Dakota in having Mr. Roosevelt with them. Dr. Creager declared that if the colonel would stay in North Dakota the people "would make you our king." It was, he said, North Dakota that had made Roosevelt President because had he not lived on the cattle ranch there, there would have been no rough rider regiment and the events that followed Col. Roosevelt's career in that regiment would not have taken place."

Received with great enthusiasm by the thousands of people crowded about the new library site Col. Roosevelt spoke on educational and economic questions and upon the events of his own life.

"I never would have been President if it had not been for my experience in North Dakota," he said, referring to the remarks of President Creager. "I do not care a rap for holding an office. What I care for is what the man does while he is in office. When I met some of those who were with me on the Dakota ranch in this city they remarked that they did not object to working with me because 'I did my share of the work'."

"While I was police commissioner New York became for a time rapidly virtuous," continued Col. Roosevelt. "There are many of my fellow citizens of New York who ever since that time have had a most ardent desire to elect me to some office that would take me a good distance from New York."

Referring to a remark by Dr. Creager to the effect that if he grew tired of Wall Street he might return to North Dakota and resume the business of a cattle raiser, Col. Roosevelt replied:

"There seems to be more likelihood at the time that Wall Street may first grow weary of me."

Then speaking of the need for scholastic education he warned the faculty of the college to be careful to keep in view the practical side of the education needed by every man and woman, as well as the education necessary, if the exceptional man in literature and science is to continue to do great work for the benefit of the Nation.

"We cannot afford to be without the great leaders," added the colonel. "We must have meen like Emerson, Hawthorne and Poe, like the scientific leaders, the great historians; in short, all of the men who, because of exceptional ability, do exceptional work, which, when done, is of the utmost value to us all and which makes one of the most important assets a Nation can have. While keeping popular eduation in mind, we must never lose sight of the need of higher education. Above all, let us work to have the colleges turn out men, men whose character and good works will influence the life of the Nation."

Speaking of the industrial development of the country, Col. Roosevelt declared that he had no quarrel with the captains of industry who desired large rewards.

"I am glad to see the captains of industry rewarded," he said. "But I would make their reward subject to the condition that the reward shall be for actual service rendered, that it shall be a reward for having served the public and not for having swindled the public, and that it shall bear some proportion to the service rendered. As to whether it shall be enough, I am always ready to solve that question on his side. I am willing to make a big margin of error, and to give him four or five times as much as he has earned, but not 100 times as much as he has earned.

"I want to give the best possible chance also to the ordinary man. I don't mean that I want to carry any man. But the ordinary man should be fully compensated for what he produces."

Then remarking that these were his policies, he added:

"It is not technically correct to describe these policies as anarchism, which is the habit of some of those who lived in the shadow of Wall Street."

A silver trowel was then handed to final ceremony of laying the cornerstone. Among other things placed in the metal box deposited in the stone was an article written by Col. Roosevelt on rural life, and portraits of Col. Roosevelt.

While witnessing the ceremony of laying the cornerstone he stood in a drizzling rain over two hours.

In an address at Island Park to working men of North Dakota, Col. Roosevelt outlined his belief as to what should be done for the benefit of the laboring classes of America.

VERIFY IT

The Proof is in Wilmington Almost at Your Door.

The public statement of a Wilmington citizen is in itself strong proof for Wilmingon people, but confirmation strengthens the evidence.

Here is a Wilmington citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved sick kidneys and now states the cure was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney ills ask better proof? You can investigate. The case is right at home.

R. A. Biddle, 606 Castle St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "About four years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney trouble and they did me so much good that I gave a testimonial for publication, recommending them. I have had no occasion to take this remedy since then, as the cure has been permanent. I am willing that my testimonial be published again. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills a great many times and know of several people who have been greatly benefitted by them."
